2019 Program Focus

This program has been created specifically for large family-owned operations who grow, pack and/or process Tobacco and/or any variation of Fruits and Vegetables and are located in the Southeast.

The program is custom designed to address the challenges and opportunities such operations face and is delivered in a highly-interactive manner. There is limited space in the program to ensure that both one-on-one and small team instruction is available to each participant while providing an experience which is meant to foster and cultivate new professional relationships.

2019 Program Dates

- Sunday January 13th - Wednesday January 16th, Savannah, GA: immediately following the Southeast Regional Fruit and Vegetable Conference
- Sunday January 27th - Saturday February 2nd, Raleigh, NC: Southern Farm Show
There will be times during that week which we will provide opportunity to participate in The Farm Show
- Sunday February 17th - Wednesday February 20th, Charleston, SC: Immediately following the Southeastern Wildlife Exposition (SEWE)

Registration Fees

$5,700 per registered operation*

$3,500 Tuition Fees

$2,200 Food & Lodging

*Registration is completed by Operation with the commitment that a single designated representative of the operation will participate in all three (3) sessions.

Additional representatives of the operation are invited to participate in either the entire program or units which are most applicable to their responsibilities. These individuals will have tuition fees waived, but will be expected to pay the food and lodging ($2,200) portion of the total registration fees to the program.

Note: All transportation to each of the course sessions is the responsibility of the operation and designated participant(s). All hotel arrangements will be handled by the Executive Farm Management Program and confirmation numbers for hotel reservations will be sent out in advance of each session.

The Executive Farm Management Program is a collaborative effort. Our partner academic institutions include; NC State College of Agriculture and Life Sciences, NC State Poole College of Management, Clemson University Cooperative Extension, East Carolina University College of Business and University of Georgia Extension.
